Pronoun Case with Compound Objects and Subjects

A. Directions: For each sentence, choose the correct pronoun in parentheses. Write the pronoun in the blank to complete the sentence.

1. Elana and (I / me) _____ read about two of our favorite tennis stars, Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert.
2. As the top two women players of the early 80s, Martina and (she / her) _____ played each other 80 times.
3. My friend Elana and (I / me) _____ are tennis rivals, too. The best players on our team are (she / her) _____ and (I / me) _____.
4. My brother hates his sports rivals, unlike my friends and (I / me) _____.
5. Martina and (we / us) _____ agree: be rivals on the court, but stay friends.

B. Directions: Rewrite the following paragraph, correcting any errors you find in the use of pronouns. (Hint: There are five errors.)

(6.) Mark and me have recently started researching the childhood friends of famous people. (7.) Last week, our friends and us discussed a story about the architect Frank Lloyd Wright. (8.) One day, Wright's classmates and he noticed a group of bullies across the street. These kids had pulled crutches away from a boy who had polio. Frank and them stood up to the bullies, and the bullies backed off. (9.) After that, Frank and the boy, whose name was Robie Lamp, became good friends. Full of ideas, Frank and him often drew sketches of their inventions. (10.) The two of they spurred each other to be creative.
